Fair use and Copyright Declaration

Under the 2003 UK Copyright Act you may request a maximum of one article from any individual issue of a journal and a maximum of one chapter from a book (or 5% of the book, whichever is the greater).

I am requesting the above from Tyndale House for a non-commercial purpose or for private study. I declare that: a) I have not previously been supplied with a copy of the same material by Tyndale House or any other source; b) I shall not use the copy except for research for a non-commercial purpose or for private study and shall not supply a copy of it to any other person; c) To the best of my knowledge no other person with whom I work has made, or intends to make, a request for substantially the same material, or substantially the same purpose, or at about the same time as this request. I understand that if the declaration is false in any material particular, a copy supplied to me by you will be an infringing copy, and that I shall be liable for infringement of copyright as if I had made the copy myself.
